SUBURBAN NEWS.

ALEXANDRIA.

The members of the Alexandria Light Infantry, now on duty at Manassas, are very much missed here. Every one of the young men is engaged in active business of one kind or other in this city, and the fact that they were called suddenly away has left many establishments short of the number necessary to conveniently transact business. It is believed, however, that they will be home again before Sunday, and will bring with them the two men, who will remain in jail here until further action.

As the birthday of Washington draws near preparations for its observance begin to be made. Besides the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, whose coming to this city has already been announced in The Star, there will be banquets by the Alex-andria and Washington Lodge of Free Masons, as well as by the Columbia and Hydraulion fire companies, and it is not unlikely a birthnight ball will take place.

ductor James A. McBride of the Washington Southern railway, who had been arrested for stopping his train an undue length of time across one of the streets.

Mr. J. A. Wilkins has bought from J. Newton Harper two building lots on Fair-fax street, a few rods south of the railway tunnel. The price paid is $500 cash. Frame houses were built on these lots in 1853, but they became dilapidated and were removed by order of the city authorities. New houses will be built this spring there.

There does not seem to be much prospect for a compromise being effected between the two opposing citizens' committees concerning the proposed amendments to the town charter. A member of the citizens' committee, appointed by the chairman of the first citizens' meeting, which presented to the legislature the draft of the new charter adopted at that meeting, stated to The Star reporter yesterday that he did not think a compromise would be made, as sevoral single-tax men had, by invitation of the commissioners, attended the conference chair, and Mrs. G. The constitutional party of Brazil will nominate Senhor Prudents Morales for president and Senhor Manuel Pereira for vice president for election on March 1.

President Peixoto gave a big reception to United States Minister Thompson and Rear Admiral Benham yesterday.

The general belief at Rio de Janeiro is that the rebellion is practically at an end and that it is not likely that there will be any more fighting of importance, as the presidential election will now take up the attention of both parties.

Dispatches from Rio de Janeiro give the following official advices: Government support is being given to the candidature of Senhor Moraes for the presidency of the republic and of Senhor Pereira for the vice presidency. The daily cannonading is kept up, but with less vigor than formerly. The warship Aquidaban and another insurgent vessel have left the harbor. It is supposed that their intention is to intercept President Peixoto's new squadron and challenge it to surrender on the outside, where it could not have the support from the government forts.
